MR. AND MRS. E. F. BISHOP'S DANCING PARTY

Messrs. Jack and Carter Galt were honored on Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop entertained in their honor. Great masses of beautiful lilies were arranged in the reception and supper rooms, while the dancing hall was hung with malle and fern baskets. Mr. Vernon Tenney and Mr. Francis H. Brown greeted the guests and ushered them to Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, who extended a cordial and friendly greeting to all their bidden guests. Late in the evening a delicious supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop are always charming to the younger set, and each year are the means of one very happy evening for the boys and girls who are home for their vacations and for those who stay here.

AN AHIUMANU PARTY
Mrs. Harry Macfarlane and Miss Lady Macfarlane entertained a jolly set of young people with a day in the country on Saturday of last week, honoring Miss Alleen Dowsett, Miss Jack Galt and Mr. Carter Galt. Every one motored over early Saturday morning, coming back by moonlight Saturday evening. Mountain tramping, swimming and tennis were the pleasures of the guests and a jolly day it was. The Macfarlane place is one of the most attractive places on the other side and the Macfarlanes entertained perfectly, their guests always an

MRS. GRANTON BEALL A TEA HOSTESS

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Granton Beall entertained with a tea, honoring Mrs. Samuel Heedner and Miss Julia Heedner of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, at her Hasting street home. The rooms were ablaze with pale pink asters and trailing asparagus vine. The lanai was banked with palms and baskets of maidenhair fern. The guests invited by Mrs. Beall to meet Mrs. Heedner and Miss Heedner were: Mrs. Harry Wilder, Miss Lamberson, Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee, Mrs. Ingram Stainback, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Ayres, Miss Florence Butler, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. Gideon Van Poole, Mrs. Alexander G. M. Hawes, Mrs. William B. Lyman, Mrs. Grover A. Batten and the hostess' mother, Mrs. Dennis H. Mahan.

DR. AND MRS. ARCHIBALD SINCLAIR'S DINNER

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Archibald Sinclair entertained at dinner at their beach home. The table was most attractive with its central ornament, a bronze-gold basket filled with the pastel shades in Transvaal daisies. The name cards were dainty bits of local color. A Hawaiian quintet furnished music for dancing and a very delightful evening was enjoyed.

and Mrs. Adams' guests were Admiral and Mrs. Clifford Boush, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. George Fairchild and Mr. Richard Ivers.

MISS ELIZABETH MCENAMIN A HOSTESS

Wednesday evening Miss Elizabeth McEnamin entertained a company of friends at a bridge party. After several very exciting rubbers of bridge delicious refreshments were served. Miss McEnamin's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Archibald Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. August Dreier, Mrs. Lister, Miss Rae, Mr. Charles Merriam, Mr. Charles Simpson and Mrs. Walter Engle.

AN AFTERNOON AT THE BEACH

Monday afternoon Mrs. Charles Wilder entertained a few friends with a swim and tea at Waikiki. After a refreshing dip the cup that cheers was enjoyed. The friends invited by Mrs. Wilder were Mrs. C. W. Case Deering, Mrs. Arthur Rice, Mrs. Grafton Beall, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Mrs. Harry Wilder, Mrs. Gideon Van Poole, Mr. Ayres, Miss Florence Butler and Miss Lamberson.

MRS. IRENE HOLLOWAY TO ENTERTAIN THE GOULDS

Tomorrow Mrs. Irene Holloway is giving a picnic at Ford's Island, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould. About 50 guests have been bidden.

STANLEY AND REDVERS WALDRON'S CHOWDER DANCE

On Monday evening Mr. Stanley and Mr. Redvers Waldron were hosts at a chowder dance at the Country Club. The club rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldron, Mrs. Frank Barre and Mrs. Jared G. Smith chaperoned the party and looked after the comfort of the guests, who were Miss Eleanor Gartley, Miss Ruth Gartley, Miss Jessie Baldwin, Miss Marjory Gould, Miss Helen Ceister, Miss Elizabeth Wall, Miss Alleen Dowsett, Miss Helen Church, Miss Marian Paris, Miss Ruth Seabolt, Miss Benjie Seabolt, Miss Doris Noble, Miss Louise Smith, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Gladys Halstead, Miss Katie Singhurst, Miss Catherine Euston, Miss Vera Keen, Miss Adeline Pratt, Miss Ruth Johnson, Mr. Dixon Hitchcock, Mr. Harvey Hitchcock, Mr. Curtis Turner, Mr. Henry Cooke, Mr. Platt Cooke, Mr. E. ## MRS. AUGUST AHRENS ENTERTAINS

On Monday Mrs. Jay Gould was the honor guest at a pot luncheon given by Mrs. August Ahrens at her home on Wilder avenue and Pikoil street. The table was very pretty with its background of feathery green and pale pink hibiscus. The affair was graced with the presence of Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani, Mrs. Jay Gould, the honor guest; Mrs. Coney, Mrs. Irene Holloway, Mrs. Curtis Lauke, Mrs. Mary Monroe, Mrs. Edgar Henriques, Miss Emily Ladd, Miss Ivy Richardson of Hilo and Miss Minna Ahrens.

MRS. WILLIAM B. LYMER'S LUNCHEON

On Monday of this week Mrs. William B. Lymer gave a small informal luncheon, honoring Mrs. Hugh Halston, who has been living in the Lymer bungalow during their mainland absence. A rock crystal bowl was daintily arranged holding long stemmed La France roses and lace fern. Bridge was the pleasure of the guests for the hour after luncheon. Mrs. Lymer's guests were Mrs. Hugh Halston, the honor guest; Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, Mrs. M. Witsell, Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson and Miss Sara Lucas.

DR. AND MRS. CHARLES ADAMS' DINNER

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Adams honored Admiral and Mrs. Clifford Boush by giving them a dinner. American Beauty roses made the table very lovely and attractive. Social conversation made the hour after dinner pass all too quickly. Dr.

orated with clusters of pink and white hibiscus and soft green foliage.

After an hour of cards, refreshments were served.

MRS. WALTER DILLINGHAM'S MORNING READINGS

Every Tuesday and Friday morning Dr. Charles Adams reads to Mrs. Walter Dillingham's friends, who are asked in to listen to the works of various authors.

These informal mornings are enjoyable as well as educational.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD D. TENNEY'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Tenney entertained with a dinner and swim on Friday evening at their home, Kukulani. The table was most beautiful with a basket of American Beauty roses and long fronds of lace ferns. After dinner, music and singing made a very pleasant evening. The guests also enjoyed a plunge in the tank with its flower-laden pergola overhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenney's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Thelma K. Murphy, Miss Betty Case, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mr. Clarence Waterman, Mr. Frederick Wichman, Mr. Vivian Dyer and Mr. Vernon Tenney.

MISS HANNAH HOBART'S DEBUT

The fun of making a debut, enjoyed by the average girl only once, will be repeated this winter by two of the members of the smart set who made their formal bow to society last year. Necessarily they will not be presented again in San Francisco, but with a continent between the excitement of sharing in the pleasures of the debutante set will nevertheless be enjoyed by them.

Miss Hannah Hobart, the attractive young daughter of Mrs. Charles S. Wheeler, who was introduced to society here last winter, will have another debutante party this winter in Philadelphia, and will plunge into all the gaiety that makes up the pleasure of the first winter in the Eastern city. Miss Emily Timlow, who was also numbered among last year's buds in this city, will be presented to New York society in a few months by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thilow, who will give an elaborate ball in her honor at the opening of the winter season.

Miss Hobart made her debut at the same tea at which Miss Elena Eyre, her closest friend, was introduced to society. It was an elaborate function at the Fairmont Hotel and was followed by a dinner-dance, with the debutante set sharing the pleasure of the evening affair.

Miss Hobart's mother was absent during the greater part of her debutante year, having gone East to be near her other children, who were attending school, and her return to California having been followed shortly by her marriage and the honeymoon trip to the Orient, from which she has just returned. Miss Hobart, in consequence, passed the greater part of her first season with her aunt, Mrs. Alexander S. Lilley. At her second debut she will be presented to the exclusive circle of Philadelphia, and the beautiful home that Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler have already taken possession of will be the scene of many delightful affairs arranged in her honor.

Miss Hobart left for the East recently, joining Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler in Vancouver on their return from China and Japan and making the trip East with them.—San Francisco Chronicle.

BETROTHAL OF INTEREST.

SAN FRANCISCO.—San Francisco society has followed other cities in having its first "war bride." The difficulties of the Mexican situation that have hastened several marriages in the smart set of New York and other eastern cities have been responsible for the change of plans of at least one dainty San Francisco maiden.

Miss Clara Hatteroth and Lieut. Cyril A. W. Dawson, United States army, who, in spite of the fact that the devotion of the young officer had been noticed, managed to keep their engagement a secret, treated their wide circle of friends to a genuine surprise when their betrothal was announced. At the same time Mr. and Mrs. William Hatteroth, parents of the bride-elect, gave the additional piece of news that the wedding will take place tomorrow.

Miss Hatteroth and her brother, Alfred Hatteroth, have left for El Centro, where the ceremony will be performed, and the bridegroom will be permitted a short leave to make a brief motor tour to various points of interest in southern California. Several of the bridesmaids, who were also affected by the sudden orders that came three weeks ago, will be present at the marriage.

Lieut. Dawson has been stationed for more than a year at Fort Miley, but managed to make frequent trips to this side of the bay, where he took part in many of the gaieties of the younger set and the Presidio. He attended several of the assemblies of which Miss Hatteroth is a member.

On the conclusion of the honeymoon it is probable, according to the present plans of the young couple, that the bride will return to San Francisco while Lieut. Dawson proceeds to the border. She will remain here until the late fall, when they expect to go to Manila for a three years' station in the islands.

JACKINGS ENTERTAIN EXTENSIVELY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Judge, who went to Salt Lake a few weeks ago, returned early in the week for a visit in this city, and are guests of Col. and Mrs. Daniel C. Jackling. They are planning to leave in the near future for Utah for the remainder of the summer. Meanwhile they are receiving a cordial welcome from their friends, and many affairs of the next week or two will include them among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, who have been visiting at the Judge home in Salt Lake, preceded their hosts to California by a few days, and en route to this city visited at Lake Tahoe, where they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. B. Morse.

Col. and Mrs. Jackling, who returned only recently from a trip that extended over several months, will leave early in August for Alaska. They will take the regulation route on one of the steamers.

It is rumored that Col. Jackling is planning to build another yacht and is reserving the Cyprus for cruises on the Atlantic coast. It has been anchored in New York since their return from South America some weeks ago, and has been leased for the summer to John Willys.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Miss Josephine Grant is being entertained at several informal affairs while home on her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grant. She will return East in September. Miss Grant was hostess at a dinner Wednesday evening at the St. Francis Hotel. Afterward the party attended one of the local theaters, and following the performance returned to the St. Francis, where they enjoyed supper and dancing.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Welch, Jr., will leave in the autumn for the East. They will make their headquarters for a time in New York and during their stay there will purchase some of the furnishings for their new home in this city. The house will be completed in the winter and they hope to move into it in time for the Christmas holidays.—San Francisco Chronicle.
